to gender-responsive development, in which women stakeholders within smallholder communities play a central role in economic and environmental transformations.
