Brief Description

The Project aims to invest in intercultural dialogue and decrease social distance among different ethnic groups through the following anticipated results:

- 1) Young people from different backgrounds and divided communities are connected via nature, adventure tourism and environmental protection and their interaction helps reduce prejudices, restore trust and cultivate respect for cultural diversity;
- 2) Enhanced knowledge, leadership and future-thinking serve as intercultural bridge among young people from divided communities and contribute to affirming shared values.

The Project will foster intercultural dialogue and interaction among young people from different ethnic and religious groups and geographic locations around nature, science, tourism and environment protection causes, ultimately contributing to bridging the social and cultural divides and restoring trust among young people.

DEVELOPMENT CHALLENGE

1. CONTEXT

1.1 Wider country context

FRAGILE STATE AND RECONCILIATION DEFICIT

Bosnia and Herzegovina continues to face complex development challenges, including economic decline, growing poverty and socio-economic inequalities. More than 20 years after the war, deeply ingrained ethnic divisions and lack of reconciliation interrupt development in all areas. The political climate is tense and dominated by nationalistic tendencies, concerted political obstruction of reforms and frequent political gridlocks. According to the Fragile States Index 2019, Bosnia and Herzegovina features as a fragile state, ranked 86th among 178 countries.

COMPLEX GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE

The complex governance structure stemming from the Dayton Peace Agreement is highly cumbersome. The country of 3.5 million people¹ has 13 constitutions, 14 legal systems (state, two entities, one autonomous district and 10 cantons) and more than 150 ministries. Ineffective governance reduces the quality of public policies and slow down reforms. Following the October 2018 General Elections, the country entered 2019 without established governments at state, entity² and some cantonal government levels, alongside political tensions and blocked reforms, which further slow its path towards the European Union (EU). Corruption continues to plague the country. Many challenges persist in relation to the rule of law and human rights.

THE EU INTEGRATION PATH AND THE SDGs

In February 2016, Bosnia and Herzegovina submitted its formal application for launching negotiations with the EU and later that year the EU accepted the application. It is expected that by the end of 2019 the EU will provide its formal Opinion on the country's candidacy, accompanied by an analytical report that will serve as a reform roadmap for vital institutional reforms and fundamental rights. With the expiration of the Reform Agenda 2015-2018 - the backbone of the EU approach - the country is yet again without a country-wide strategic framework to guide its development efforts. On a positive note, with UN's support, authorities across all government levels have stepped up their engagement to nationalize the Agenda 2030 and develop the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) Framework 2030 for Bosnia and Herzegovina.

THE ECONOMY

The country's economy is projected to grow from 3.2% in 2018 to and 3.9% by 2020. The labour market has improved, and the unemployment rate went down to the historic low 18.4%, which is mainly due to the decrease in the working-age population and rising inactivity. The overall business environment is weak: in the World Bank Doing Business 2019 Report, Bosnia and Herzegovina was ranked 89th out of 190 countries. Digital transformation of both private and public sectors has not yet commenced. Increasingly, young people opt to migrate out of the country. Despite the overall unfavourable environment in the country, several fast-growing industries are emerging, such as metal and automotive, wood processing, textile and leather, information and communication technologies, tourism. Although these industries are growing steadily, they are still far from reaching their full potential.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND POVERTY

The 2018 Human Development Index value for Bosnia and Herzegovina is 0.768 (compared to 0.750 in the previous year), placing the country 77th among 189 countries (in the “high human development category”), but still below the average for Europe and Central Asia. Nearly 17% of the population or more than 500,000 people live below the poverty line.³

THE SECURITY SITUATION

Compared to other post-conflict countries, particularly bearing in mind the scale of the human rights abuses that took place during the war, Bosnia and Herzegovina has relatively low levels of violence. The war left another legacy affecting the security situation in the country: the large numbers of illicit small arms and light weapons, which remain in possession and contribute to a feeling of insecurity among people. The country is struggling with an influx of thousands of refugees and migrants after previously popular migration routes to Western Europe through the Balkans shut down.

1.2 Sector-specific analysis

ETHNIC AND SOCIAL DIVIDES

25 years after the war in Bosnia and Herzegovina, the social and individual wounds of the conflict did not heal. This multi-ethnic country, home to three main ethnic groups (Bosniaks, Bosnian Croats and Bosnian Serbs) still suffers from social exclusion and political insecurity, which hamper development. The Dayton Peace Accords put in place a political system that places a great deal of power with the entities (and cantons) at the expense of the state; and a complex governance system. As a result, political parties tend to define themselves along ethnic and, subsequently - religious lines rather than according to a traditional left-to-right political scale. A perpetuated rhetoric of division contributes to low levels of people-to-people interaction and trust. Although reconciliation has been at the centre of the post-conflict development assistance agenda of the international community in the country since 1996, the legacy of war is omnipresent, particularly visible in the way ethnic divides shape every aspect of life. There is a delicate relationship between the failure of the political system and the failures of the reconciliation process in the country. What has been significantly absent in previous reconciliation efforts is both the political messaging in this direction, as well as the vital “restorative” people-to-people approach that contribute to healing, trust-building, increased collaboration, communication and stability.

PEACEBUILDING, RECONCILIATION AND THE EU

So far, the broader EU policy towards Bosnia and Herzegovina has been viewed through the lens of accession, arguably limiting the EU’s potential to focus on those factors that are important from a viewpoint of conflict prevention and peacebuilding. Even with its renewed approach in 2014, the EU has placed the economic criteria for accession at the frontline of its assistance to the country, “siding” the political criteria due to their high sensitivity and stalling accession progress. Yet, the 2018 Western Balkans Enlargement Strategy of the EU⁴ made a shift towards reconciliation and sustaining peace in the region, including Bosnia and Herzegovina. The strategy points that “...further efforts towards reconciliation are crucial to firmly anchor peace and ensure lasting stability in the region. All countries must unequivocally commit, in both word and deed, to overcoming the legacy of the past, by achieving reconciliation and solving open issues well before their accession to the EU.” This creates a positive environment for renewed reconciliation efforts in the country.

⁴ A credible enlargement perspective for and enhanced EU engagement with the Western Balkans, European Union, 2018.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND THEIR VOICES

New generations are growing up in ethnically homogenous communities, isolated and polarized, with little knowledge or understanding of “the other(s)” and with stereotypes passed from one generation to another, shaping up a society which is vulnerable to divisive narratives and conflicts. This affects particularly young people who are growing up in a society that has undergone challenging times over the last two decades, absorbing the wartime trauma of previous generations. Economic pressure further adds strains on society, increases fear and social instability. Youth unemployment, with 38.8% of those between 15–24 years without a job and many of those in employment working in the informal sector without job security, social security or pension provision – are further contributing to the social tensions.

According to a youth perceptions study⁵, “...young people in the country grow up in a context that fosters ethnonationalist sentiments and fears, discourages independent and critical thinking, and only half-heartedly addresses and responds to youth concerns and priorities. Young people have limited opportunities to voice their views and to be heard. They respond to this grim situation with a mixture of criticism, apathy and disinterest. They are fed up with being caught in the legacies of the war and want to escape ethnic, religious and geographic labels. They are interested in a life free from insecurity and economic constraints, where people are treated equally and can participate in decision-making. Political ideas and world views based on ethno-nationalism have no place in that vision.” Other survey comes to show that the lack of contact between youth of different ethnic backgrounds breeds fear of how they will be received when they do interact. Many young people had experienced resentment when travelling to a location where the majority population is of another ethnic group, although often fears appeared to be based on hearsay or media influence. Despite these anxieties, most people expressed a strong desire to meet people from other ethnic groups and other locations across Bosnia and Herzegovina more frequently in a positive environment. In addition, another recent study⁶ found that life satisfaction and optimism of young people of Bosnia and Herzegovina on a scale from 1 to 5 stands high at 4.2, mainly inspired by European identity and positive perceptions of the EU.

EDUCATION AND ACTIVISM

Education systems are also extremely important in reconciliation efforts. Current practices demonstrate that the education in the country has done very little to advance stability, inter-group trust and increased dialogue among young people. Separation in the curriculum along with the separation of schools has given the youth a low level of interaction between the different ethnic groups, thus making the divide between individuals even wider. Young people today do not play an active role in society and do not strive pro-actively to foster change. Often, they lack critical thinking. Yet, surprisingly, many young people are taking part in youth activities or are volunteers, if someone else organises them.

RELIGION AND ETHNICITY

Bosnia and Herzegovina is a melting pot of religions: Ottomans brought Islam; Catholicism came from the west and Orthodox Christianity - from the east. The main three ethnic groups in the country are directly linked to these three main religions. For that matter, reconciliation has also been approached by utilising religious institutions as peace conduits, where religious leaders had a role to play in building a sense of trust, cooperation, and peace within their communities. However, research has shown that these attempts have not been successful because other parties have seen the involvement of religious figures as a threat and/or domination effort on the part of that specific religious group.⁷

⁵ Leaving the Past Behind: The Perceptions of Youth in Bosnia and Herzegovina, Nansen Dialogue Centre and SaferWorld.

⁶ Youth Study South-East Europe 2018/2019, Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung.

In Bosnia and Herzegovina, cultural heritage is an emotionally and politically charged concept. It faces the risk of being reduced to "ethnic heritage", with peoples of Bosnia and Herzegovina using culture - along with language and religion - to reinforce their separate identity, instead of valuing the common heritage while respecting their differences. Global practice comes to demonstrate that culture can be a powerful tool for post-conflict societal healing and that art can contribute to reconciliation by creating dialogue between opposing groups, rebuilding trust and empathy in communities. Conflict, identity and culture are inextricably linked. Culture and art interactions can encourage respect and dialogue among divided communities and can foster a shared sense of ownership of cultural heritage.

Against this backdrop of resentment between ethnic groups, tensions fuelled by political actors and economic crisis, a renewed approach to reconciliation is required, in tandem with the EU integration process, featuring cohesion between different communities and ethnic groups. Engaging youth in cross-community dialogue, with young people of different ethnic and religious backgrounds, is essential for a stable, peaceful future in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

CULTURE AND ARTS AS BRIDGES TO CLOSE THE ETHNIC DIVISION GAPS

1.3 Stakeholders' analysis

There are several main stakeholders who are central to this project.

YOUNG PEOPLE

Young people are at the heart of the renewed approach to reconciliation and social cohesion in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Despite the prevailing stereotypes, apathy and insufficient activism among young people, many youth leaders are there, organized and connected with likeminded people. They represent a key partner in this intervention, one which could act as a vehicle to reach the inactive, disillusioned, unorganized and "un-networked" young people; to especially reach those who are susceptible to negative influences and who feel disengaged. The intervention will seek to engage youth influencers, most often active in social media. By choosing to work predominantly with young people, this intervention can contribute to change of attitudes of the young generation, thus have a positive impact on the future of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

RELEVANT PUBLIC BODIES AND LINE MINISTRIES

An important stakeholder is the Commission for Coordination of Youth Issues in Bosnia and Herzegovina, which has the responsibility to propose and implement relevant institutional framework, youth policy and relevant legal framework. The Project will also engage relevant line ministries (education, tourism, etc.) that play a role in some of the Project activities. These may include but may be note limited to the Ministry of Human Rights and Refugees of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the entity tourism ministries, the entity education ministries. These ministries will have a role not only in designing and introducing educational / extra-curriculum programmes for children and young people, but also in facilitating cross-country cultural and educational interaction.

⁷ Religion and Reconciliation in Bosnia & Herzegovina: Are Religious Actors Doing Enough? Janine Natalya Clark, 2010.

LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Other important stakeholders are local governments, which are committed to support youth programmes. Local governments can offer support and resources in the implementation of the intervention, as well as mobilise engagement of their communities.

CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANISATIONS

Non-governmental organisations are also a key stakeholder in any youth-related intervention. The main types of relevant organisations include youth associations and organisations (including youth peace organisations, such as Youth for Peace); women associations; tourism and mountain organisations and associations and other akin outdoor associations and clubs (such as Terra Dinarica); knowledge hubs and social entrepreneurship organisations, environmental organisations; culture and art organisations (such as Cultural Heritage Without Border); sport clubs (such as Sarajevo Marathon); etc.

SCHOOLS

Primary, secondary and high schools are also seen as important stakeholders, with two-fold role: on the one hand, helping promote and support country-wide connectivity among young people, volunteerism, learning activities, joint tourism and nature recreation activities, as well as raising environmental awareness.

MEDIA AND
INFLUENCERS

Media are another important player, having in mind their potential to share positive message and amplify good examples of intercultural dialogue country wide. Young influencers can also be a powerful mobilising and uniting voice for young people in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

STRATEGY

2. OBJECTIVES

2.1 Theory of change

THEORY OF CHANGE

The Project's theory of change is as follows: if young people and their families across entity lines are continuously connected through an extended range of learning, culture, art, nature and fun opportunities, as well as apply critical thinking, then people from divided communities will more likely engage in collaboration and joint experiences, which ultimately decrease the social barriers in the long-term. Such cultural, nature and learning interactions may also contribute to creating a new generation of young people who are agents of change that can further promote reconciliation and affirm diversity as a shared value.

The intervention will apply a renewed approach and a new angle to reconciliation – placing focus on engaging young people across the country through common interests and facilitating them to act together to address common challenges, experience shared adventure, learning and co-working, which ultimately will strengthen the “togetherness” among young people by using a modern set of reconciliation tools.

On the one side, the Project will explore untraditional ways of encouraging intercultural dialogue and bridging the existing social gaps based on the European values and principles of tolerance. On the other - the Project will give space for “bricks-and-mortar” activities and interaction among young people, where they can be with their peers, and spend their time in a constructive and creative way with expert guidance and mentoring.

The theory of change anticipates behavioural and cultural changes among individuals who take part in the Project implementation manifested through internalised values of respect and diversity, building tolerance and trust among young people from divided societies.

2.2 Links to national and international strategies and frameworks

EU and ITALY

This Project is in line with the EU Western Balkans Strategy: A Credible Enlargement Perspective for and Enhanced EU Engagement with the Western Balkans, particularly with its main priority related to reconciliation.

This proposal builds on the efforts of the so-called Bern process under which there is also a specific group coordinated by Italy aiming to trigger stronger reconciliation efforts.

DOMESTIC POLICY/ STRATEGY FRAMEWORKS

Bosnia and Herzegovina does not have a national youth strategy. The National Assembly of the entity of Republika Srpska adopted the Youth Policy 2016-2020, and the draft Youth Strategy in the entity of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina is pending adoption by the government. None of them, though, place joint (cross-entity) interaction and inter-cultural dialogue among young people as a priority.

SDGs

Importantly, the Project will contribute to the implementation of the Agenda 2030 and the SDGs, specifically SDG 16: Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions. In addition, the Project contributes to the global efforts of the Youth2030: United Nations' Youth Strategy, which aims to contribute to young people's empowerment, development and engagement.

2.3 Hierarchy of objectives

PROJECT GOAL

The Project aims to foster intercultural dialogue and interaction among young people from different ethnic and religious groups and geographic locations around nature, science, tourism and environment protection causes, thus contributing to bridging the social and cultural divides and restoring trust among young people.

The Project has two main outcomes, as follows:

PROJECT OUTCOMES

- Outcome 1: Young people from different backgrounds and divided communities are connected via nature, adventure tourism and environmental protection and their interaction helps reduce prejudices, restore trust and cultivate respect for cultural diversity.

This outcome will be achieved by creating a conducive environment for young people's interaction across border lines / ethnic divides through adventure and fun activities; joint youth actions for environment protection and green volunteer campaigns, as by setting in place a top 30 touristic / nature / cultural sights country-wide as an incentive and learning programme for school-children across the country. This outcome will utilize as its backbone the Via Dinarica touristic trails within Bosnia and Herzegovina⁸ to design and offer outdoor adventure and treasure hunt experiences for young people across the country; encourage volunteer campaigns along the Via Dinarica trails in the country; support environmental protection and joint actions that reduce the negative consequences and safeguard natural assets; and create a tourism-based award scheme for students in the country – “30 Top Via Dinarica Sites in Bosnia and Herzegovina” that can stimulate traveling around the country by young people and help build a sense of identity and pride in the natural / cultural assets of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

- Outcome 2: Enhanced knowledge, leadership and future-thinking serve as intercultural bridge among young people from divided communities and contribute to affirming shared values

This outcome will be achieved by instigating intellectual and knowledge exchange, nurturing critical thinking and promoting the potential of young people for the renewal of the society. Hence, the intervention will focus on empowering young people and equipping them with social, civic and intercultural skills and a strong critical thinking capacity. Firstly, the Project will introduce and promote intellectual exchange and leadership skill development through the TED Youth Talk in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Secondly, the Project will support a nation-wide Youth Knowledge Championship that brings together high school students from the entire country to learn, interact and propose solutions to challenges.

⁸ The Via Dinarica is supported by the Italian Development Cooperation Agency through the Via Dinarica – A Platform for Sustainable Tourism Development and Local Economic Growth Project 2018-2020 implemented by UNDP in Bosnia and Herzegovina and co-financed by USAID.

Below is a visual snapshot of the Project, including its outcomes and outputs.

RESULTS, APPROACH AND PARTNERSHIPS

3. DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE PROJECT OUTCOMES AND OUTPUTS

Outcome 1: Young people from different backgrounds and divided communities are connected via nature, adventure tourism and environmental protection and their interaction helps reduce prejudices, restore trust and cultivate respect for multicultural diversity.

This outcome has three main outputs, described further below.

PROJECT
OUTPUT 1.1:
ADVENTURE
AND FUN
ALONG THE
VIA DINARICA
TRAILS

Under the Project output / result 1.1, the Project will support adventure and fun alongside the Via Dinarica trails for young people (7 – 19 years old) across the country to jointly experience the natural / cultural and recreative opportunities offered by the Via Dinarica trails. The Project will engage with schools from the entire country and will collaborate with youth organisations to outreach potential participants in the adventure camps, which will aim to bring together young people from different parts of the country. The camps will pay due attention to safety of participants, providing learning and fun experience.

The Project will also facilitate the establishment of the Via Dinarica National Youth Games Without Borders. To ensure wide participation of young people and visibility of the event, UNDP will partner with local governments, schools, sport associations, youth associations, mountain and tourist associations and media. The games will be organised along the Via Dinarica trails, depending on the specific discipline. As an innovative approach, the Project will seek to interact with young influencers from Bosnia and Herzegovina who are willing to promote the events and thus motivate more young people to engage. Participants from the country will travel to different country locations to take part in the games. UNDP will also outreach to the private sector to seek contributions and support, including by companies from Italy.

In the organisation of various art, cultural and gastronomic events along the Via Dinarica Trails, the Project will seek to partner with relevant artists (actors, musicians), renowned chefs, athletes, prominent young people etc. from Italy, so as to ensure a richer content for these happenings. In this process, regular cooperation will be ensured with the Embassy of Italy in Bosnia and Herzegovina, as well as with the Italian Trade Agency.

The products under this output (e.g. adventure camps for young people, Youth Sports Games, etc.) will not only provide possibility for young people from different communities to come together but will also add value to diversifying the tourism offer along the Via Dinarica trails.

Activities under this output are:

1.1.1. Organise the Via Dinarica Youth Adventure Camps (treasure hunts, summer outdoor camps) for young people aged 11-14 years.

1.1.2. Organise the Via Dinarica Kids Adventure Camps (simplified outdoor lectures, small trail cleaning actions, orientation in nature) for children aged 7-10 years.

1.1.3. Organise Via Dinarica National Youth Games Without Borders (including hiking, cycling, fishing, scouting) for young people aged 15-19 years.

PROJECT
OUTPUT 1.2: JOINT
YOUTH ACTIONS
CONTRIBUTE TO ENVIRONMENTAL CONSCIENCE

1.1.4. Celebrate international days (environment, water, tourism, etc.) and organise art performances, exhibitions, cultural events, gastronomic events, etc. along the Via Dinarica trails.

The main partners in this output are local governments along the Via Dinarica Trails, tourism organisations and associations, as well as local communities/mjesne zajednice, schools and local cultural institutions.

Under the Project output / result 1.2, the Project will organise regional youth campaigns for cleaning, greening, small community actions aimed at the reduction of the ecological footprint, as well as Via Dinarica trail marking and assets' inventory. Young people aged 15 – 25 years from different regions along the Via Dinarica trails will take part.

Within this output, the Project will foster joint youth actions for environment protection and reduction of human impact to the environment that boost youth volunteerism and activism.

To ensure active participation of young people from different localities in the regional events, the Project will partner with schools, media and youth organisations. In addition, campaigns and learning initiatives will be organised in collaboration with national movements such as “Let's Clean Bosnia and Herzegovina in 1 Day” and similar, for wider impact and engagement of young people.

Activities under this output are:

1.2.1. Organise joint regional youth campaigns for cleaning, greening, community works and actions, as well as Via Dinarica trail marking and assets' inventory.

1.2.2. Embed learning and awareness raising within the campaigns, with focus on environmental protection, climate change and environmental footprint reduction, as well as circular (green) economy.

The main partners in this output are educational institutions (schools, universities), local communities/mjesne zajednice; civil society organisations, as well as media.

Under the output / result 1.3, the Project will compile the top 30 natural and historical sites along the Via Dinarica trails and will develop the Via Dinarica Top 30 Sites in Bosnia and Herzegovina booklet, which will serve as a motivational and educational tool for young people country wide.

PROJECT OUTPUT
1.3: INTRODUCED
AND INCENTIVE SCHEME TO ENABLE STUDENTS TO LEARN ABOUT
VIA DINARICA
TOP 30 SITES

This initiative will be designed in collaboration with the relevant ministries of education and culture and implemented in collaboration with primary and secondary schools country wide.

As part of this initiative, sites of cultural / natural / historical significance will be selected (e.g. archaeological sanctuaries, museums, national parks, mountain peaks, geological phenomena, etc.). Each of the chosen landmarks in Bosnia and Herzegovina will have its own individual seal, which will be stamped on the relevant pages of the official passport-like booklet “Via Dinarica Top 30 Sites”. The booklet will come with a separate map (and a digital application) which includes a list of the sites, exact location on the Via Dinarica trails, addresses and working hours. The programme will encourage collection of as many stamps as possible by announcing an appealing reward for the first 30 young people who gather all the stamps. Ultimately, this scheme will encourage traveling of young people around the country, meeting local communities and getting to know more about the homeland. The first 30 young people who collect all 30 seals will be awarded (by an adventure camp experience or participation in a learning event, etc.). The programme will be handed over to respective ministries of education for future adjustment and use in the long-term.

Activities under this output are:

1.3.1. In collaboration with relevant ministries, identify sites and develop the Via Dinarica Top 30 Sites National School Award programme and booklet.

1.3.2. Cooperate with schools to promote the Via Dinarica top 30 sites national award programme, encourage participation of school children and award 30 winners who collect all seals from the selected sites.

PROJECT
OUTPUT 2.1: TED
YOUTH TALK
ESTABLISHED IN BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA
POWERFUL
DIALOGUE AND INSPIRATION
LEARNING

Outcome 2: Enhanced knowledge, leadership and future-thinking serve as intercultural bridge among young people from divided communities and contribute to affirming shared values

Output / result 2.1 strives to embed non-formal education into all activities. In partnership with the TED Talk licence holder for Bosnia and Herzegovina, the Project will support the establishment of the TED Youth Talk for Bosnia and Herzegovina and will facilitate its first events. Young people will be encouraged to talk about their experiences and “every-day-heroes”, as well as identify youth leaders who can serve as role models for their communities. These efforts will be accompanied by a series of interactive capacity development and creative workshops stimulating critical thinking, open-mindedness, storytelling and leadership skills. The Project will partner with youth organisations (such as, for example, the Youth Resource Centre, “Firefly” Organisation, Institute for Youth Development KULT, etc.). In addition, the Project will collaborate with innovation hubs and technology centres that may host the skills and critical thinking learning events. The Project will ensure that the TED Youth Talk is handed over to a youth association that will continue to organise youth TED events after the Project lifespan.

Activities under this output are:

2.1.1. Establish the TED Youth Talk in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

2.1.2. Support the implementation of at least 2 national TED Youth Talks, including proactive promotion.

2.1.3. Design and deliver a series of interactive capacity development workshops (critical thinking, leadership, storytelling, etc.) that engage young people from different communities.

OUTPUT 2.2:
NATIONAL
ORGANISED

Output / result 2.2. will focus on encouraging cross-country learning interaction among young people. In collaboration with high-schools country-wide and with youth non-governmental organisations, the Project will organise a National Youth Knowledge Championship. This will be based on the following approach: regional competitions country-wide, mixed teams, semi-finals and finals.

The topics for the competitions will be decided by the schools and the Project, but will be future-looking, innovative (challenges, innovation quests, best business ideas, etc.). The Championship will be organised in collaboration with other country-wide youth organisations and innovation incubators. The Championship will be followed by a TV programme partner.

Activities under this output are:

2.2.1. Design the concept for the National Youth Knowledge Championship.

2.2.2. Organize the competitions within National Youth Knowledge Championship.

2.2.3. Engage a TV partner to document, produce and broadcast the competitions.

Key partners in this output are educational institutions (high-schools, universities), civil society organisations, as well as art community and media.

IMPLEMENTATION STRATEGY

3.1 Methodological approach

BUILDING BLOCKS OF THE APPROACH

The overarching Project approach entails: (i) placing focus on untraditional, non “reconciliation-labelled” actions that actually enable collaboration among young people and melt the prejudices and divides; (ii) listening to ideas and suggestions by young people; and (iii) ensuring that relevant policy and institutional stakeholders are fully on board; (iv) promoting innovation and critical thinking across all activities; (v) testing a new approach to bringing youth representatives from divided communities together; (vi) conflict-sensitive lens applied in all Project activities.

The project implementation strategy will be characterized by several principles:

- Togetherness will be applied as the connecting thread across all activities – bringing young people from different ethnic backgrounds or geographic locations in joint work, learning and interaction.
- Promote diversity in all its forms: the Project will seek to employ and advocate for methods and approaches reflective of this diversity, so all young people can reach their full engagement, empowerment and development. The Project will utilise a human rights-based, gender-sensitive and responsive approach.
- In delivering its assistance in most effective manner, the Project will keep its politically impartial approach.
- Focus on poor and socially excluded young people: wherever relevant, the Project will ensure that the poor and socially excluded youth have equal possibility to engage within the Project.

In addition, where possible, the Project will seek to bring in-country and present successful examples and experiences from Italy (e.g. youth activities, capacity development, art, culture, gastronomy, etc.). To enrich content of some of the events and make them more interesting for participants, the Project will seek to ensure “sponsors” from Italy (such as artists, renowned chefs, athletes, entrepreneurs, journalists, prominent young people, etc.). In doing so, the Project will work closely with the Embassy of Italy (including the Italian Trade Agency).

VIA DINARICA AS ONE OF THE KEY PROJECT TOOLS

The Via Dinarica is a mega trail with three main trails (White, Green, and Blue) that stretches across the Western Balkans from Slovenia to Albania. The Via Dinarica is a platform that serves to promote and develop local communities and small businesses locally as well as globally. Its purpose is to connect the countries and communities of the Dinaric Alps by creating a unique and diversified tourist offer. The Via Dinarica concept promotes tourism for the sustainable economic development of the countries along its corridors, while preserving the environment and respecting the sociocultural diversity and authenticity of communities.

The White Trail is the main trail along the entire length of the Via Dinarica that follows the natural flow of the highest peaks of the Dinaric Alps, enabling many activities, such as hiking, mountain biking and rafting. The Blue Trail veers towards the coastline and the crystal-clear waters of the Adriatic Sea. The mountains may be smaller in this part but no less attractive and challenging. It includes some of the best coastal and hinterland hiking in Europe and is always accompanied by the fresh smell of medicinal herbs and the breeze of the Mediterranean. Sea kayaking and other water sports are an integral part of the Blue Trail. The Green Trail is exactly that: a green carpet of conifer forests that meander through some of the lower mountains of the Dinaric Alps. The Green Trail is made for two-wheeled trail blazers with hundreds of kilometres of well-maintained bike trails that encompass Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina and Croatia with the largest portion of the trail located in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

3.2 Target beneficiaries and expected benefits

The Project will focus on the following main target groups:

- Young people (7-24 years);
- Parents and teachers of participating young people;
- Wider public reached through media.

The main direct Project beneficiaries include:

- At least 1,500 young people (among whom at least 40% young women and at least 10% young people who are socially excluded) from both urban and rural areas, engaged in intercultural dialogue and interaction;
- At least 50 schools country wide engaged in the Project implementation;
- At least 30 media engaged in amplifying the Project results and success stories;
- At least 20 local governments support the Project implementation.

The selection of priority localities will be conducted in line with the description under 3.3, i.e. among partner local governments within the Via Dinarica Project and possible – partners of the Dialogue for the Future Project Phase II.

Potential beneficiary primary and secondary schools will be nominated by partner local governments. The selection will be carried out based on criteria that will be defined in close consultations with relevant institutions (e.g. Ministries of Education at entity and cantonal levels, as well as institutions represented in the Project Board). The criteria will give preference to schools that can demonstrate previous engagement and/or commitment to implement or participate in specific activities promoting cooperation and joint values among students of different ethnicities. Further, the criteria will also favor the selection of schools active in environment protection, outdoor activities and sports, as well as those that have excellent results in extra-curricular activities.

Individual beneficiaries will be selected in cooperation with school representatives, and in this case also the preference will be given to those pupils who have shown certain level of success and have been active in extra-curricular activities related to ecology, sports, tourism or similar and willing to participate in the envisaged project activities promoting understanding and respect for cultural diversity. In cooperation with the beneficiary education institutions, selection criteria will be designed to ensure participation of girls as well as of young people who are socially excluded.

3.3 Geographic coverage

PRIORITY LOCALITIES

The Project will work with communities country wide, aiming to engage and provide opportunities to as many young people as possible, without focusing its efforts explicitly on several localities. Yet, the Project will introduce several “anchor” areas comprising approximately 20 local governments that will play an amplifying role in the Project implementation. These localities will be selected primarily among the partner local governments within the Via Dinarica Project and possible – partners of the Dialogue for the Future Project Phase II.

3.4 Cross-cutting themes

GENDER EQUALITY

Gender equality: The Project recognizes that long-term, sustainable development will only be possible when young women and men enjoy equal opportunity to rise to their potential. The notion of gender equality has been considered in the process of Project design, as well as mainstreamed within its activities. The Project monitoring framework is gender-sensitive and envisages sex-disaggregated data collection for all relevant indicators.

SOCIAL INCLUSION

The Project will seek to enhance social inclusion in all stages of its implementation, thus contributing to the creation of equal opportunities when it comes to access to nature, learning opportunities and various youth campaigns. The socially excluded groups are unemployed young people; young people with disabilities; poor young people.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

The Project will utilise Via Dinarica as one of its main tools for project implementation; therefore, protecting the environment and respecting the sociocultural diversity and authenticity of communities is of great importance. The Project involves several interventions in rural areas and nature parks, as elaborated throughout this document. The Project will therefore pay attention to environmental protection in designing and delivering all its interventions.

INNOVATION

As much as possible, the Project will apply innovative approach and thinking throughout the implementation. Innovation in this case implies engaging untraditional stakeholders to amplify messages or increase outreach; embracing different approaches to organising events and learning opportunities; implementing small-scale experiments ideated by the UNDP Accelerator Lab in Bosnia and Herzegovina which is an incubator for innovation in development work.

3.5 Possible partnerships and synergies with other on-going or planned interventions

The Project will capitalize the most on several interventions, whose good practices and lessons learnt will be utilized and expanded by this intervention, including: The Via Dinarica

– A Platform for Sustainable Tourism Development and Local Economic Growth (phase II), supported jointly by the AICS and USAID; as well as six EU-supported projects that formed designated eco-zones and heritage trails in protected areas that coincide with the territories of the Via Dinarica trail.

The Project will leverage information, networks and messages facilitated by the Joint UN Dialogue for the Future Programme (phase II), as well as by the on-going multi-country Dialogue for the Future Programme implemented by the UN in Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Montenegro and Serbia. Complementarities may be established by connecting with local dialogue platforms in selected localities and with youth networks, planning jointly large-scale events and ensure maximized outreach; as well as tapping into the existing sets of capacity development programmes for young people. The Project will utilise the planned surveys to obtain data necessary for the target values from the logical framework (perception studies, etc.). In addition, the Project will utilise networks and experiences of the United Nations Country Team, specifically in relation to young people, youth networks, education, etc.

Synergies will be built with the ongoing project financed by AICS and implemented by the Italian non-governmental organisation CISP – Biodiversity for Local Development: Innovative Model of Participatory Governance for the Protected Landscape of Konjuh, specifically in terms of exploring potentials to collaborate in design of integrated youth adventure programmes and environmental actions.

Complementarities will also be sought with the Strengthening the Role of Local Communities/Mjesne zajednice Programme (2015-2019), a partnership initiative by the Government of Switzerland and the Government Sweden in terms of utilising access to grass-root participatory processes and youth groups.

The network of Via Dinarica field stakeholders will also be instrumental in identification of localities and facilitation of activities, in line with their geographical coverage and field of expertise.

3.6 Italy's support to the reconciliation and peace agenda in Bosnia and Herzegovina

Building upon its own internal experience of uniquely diverse culture, Italy remains one of the leading diplomacies to demonstrate how such rich diversity (and collective expressions of cultural identity) can be leveraged to enable and strengthen social cohesion – most importantly tolerance and solidarity. Since the end of the war, Italy has been one of the most active supporters and promoters of peacebuilding in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

An important example of the Italian engagements witnessed in the support to restore the Old Bridge of Mostar within the overall framework of UNESCO / World Bank programme. In late 2017, in the framework of the so-called Bern process, the Italian Embassy participated in the discussion among 15 EU Member States and multilateral organisations looking at the most pressing challenges facing the country and searching for solutions to address them; and focused on reconciliation. The Italian Ambassador has committed to lead the discussions particularly related to finding renewed approaches to addressing social divide and reconciliation in the country.

Therefore, Italy is well positioned to continue facilitating discussions and dialogue among people in Bosnia and Herzegovina, promoting the EU values, as well as advocating for a more tangible commitment to reconciliation in the country.

3.7 Visibility and communication

Visibility, media-presence and public information sharing of Project activities and achievements will be ensured on a regular basis, pursuing the following objectives: (i) promoting the values of trust and intercultural dialogue; (ii) publicly recognizing efforts by public, private and nongovernmental stakeholders contributing to the Project; (iii) recognizing the AICS contribution to the Project success. UNDP will adopt a results-based communications approach so as the donor can clearly see the impact of their investments. The Project will utilise social media and series of events and gatherings.

The Project visibility activities will aim to access multiple target groups (youth, policymakers, women, etc.). All Project products, events, promotion materials will duly respect visibility requirements and standards of the AICS and the UNDP.

3.8 Use of existing country systems

The Project will, wherever possible, use the already existing systems and mechanisms for its successful implementation, including, among others, youth platforms and existing peace and reconciliation networks; education system and school networks, etc.

3.9 Sustainability and scaling up prospect

By applying the vital “restorative” people-to-people approach that contribute to trust-building, increased collaboration, communication and stability focused on the young people, the Project will promote reconciliation by empowering young people and equipping them with social, civic and intercultural skills and a strong critical thinking capacity. Positive results of such an approach are expected to be manifested through improved understanding of and respect for diversity, as well as enhanced tolerance and trust among young people from different ethnic and social background. As such, the Project will contribute to creating a new generation of young people who will have the capacity to become the agents of change and further promote reconciliation and affirm diversity as a shared value.

The Project will particularly seek to build permanent partnerships among partner schools and/or institutions by using, among else, concrete project products, such as the Via Dinarica National Youth Games Without Borders; the Via Dinarica Top 30 Sites programme; Ted Youth Talks; and National Knowledge Championship. These products will be handed over to Project partner organisations and institutions (e.g. relevant public institutions and bodies at state and entity government levels, partner ministries of education and schools) to enable them to apply the relevant methodologies and tools in their further efforts and activities, as well as to engage more young people and new generations in activities promoting reconciliation and affirmation of diversity. Wherever possible, these tools will be incorporated in the framework of tourism offer of the Via Dinarica trails (i.e. adventure camps, treasure hunt camps, etc.).

The opportunities for scaling-up of the activities will be explored with relevant institutions on all government levels, as well as with other relevant UN initiatives.

GOVERNANCE, MANAGEMENT ARRANGEMENTS AND RESOURCES

4. PROJECT MANAGEMENT

4.1 Project duration

The total Project duration will be 2 years (24 months).

4.2 Project management

UNDP in Bosnia and Herzegovina will assume full responsibility and accountability for the overall management of the Project, including achieving of the results / outputs and outcomes, the efficient and effective use of resources, as well as implementation monitoring. The Direct Implementation Modality (DIM) will be applied, premised on the fact that institutional and administrative capacities within national stakeholders (line-ministries, local governments) are still not fully sufficient to undertake core functions and activities, as well as having in mind its high potential for maximum cost-effectiveness and tailored flexible capacity development of institutional partners.

Having in mind the fact that the Project is a country-wide initiative with high level of political sensitivity, UNDP will ensure that efforts from the divided entity authorities, as well as communities from different localities across entities are brought together into a consolidated intervention. With the complex and divided country governance structure in mind, it is of key importance that a politically neutral organization can support, in collaboration with all relevant institutions and stakeholders, a common effort to overcome the potential fragmentation of the Project to multiple parts throughout the country, with no common line of work, or cultural dialogue among different stakeholders. In that sense, UNDP will have a facilitative role, providing institutional support and consolidating efforts of both higher government level authorities, as well as ground-level activities and organisations. UNDP will engage many domestic partners - public institutions, civil society organisations with country-wide outreach and will seek to outsource work packages to them, so as to ensure that capacities are vested within the country, while effectively contributing to breaking the existing social, ethnic and cultural divides. In that process, UNDP will also leverage its unique field presence across the country (through its 4 regional offices in Banja Luka, Bihać, Mostar and Doboј).

The Project structures include the Project Board as a main steering mechanism and the Project Team.

The Project Board will be the decision-making authority, responsible for the Project management oversight. The Project Board will review and endorse the overall Project implementation plan, as well as annual work plans, supervise the implementation progress and authorize any major deviation therefrom. It will provide strategic guidance, as well as give final approval to selected strategic and operational issues. The Project Board will meet semi-annually, or as necessary when raised by the Project Manager. Members of the Project Board will be senior representatives of the Ministry of Foreign Trade and Economic Relations of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the Ministry of Environment and Tourism of Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the Ministry of Trade and Tourism of Republika Srpska, ACIS and UNDP.⁹ UNDP will serve as the secretariat to the Project Board, responsible for sending out invitation for Project Board meetings, preparing meeting agenda and materials, as well as meeting minutes. As needed, the Project will coordinate with and consult specific Project activities with the Commission for Coordination of Youth Issues in Bosnia and Herzegovina, entity ministries of education, ministries of sport, etc.

The Project Assurance role will support the Project Board by carrying out objective project oversight and monitoring functions. This role ensures appropriate Project management milestones are managed and completed. Independent of the Project Manager, the role of Project Assurance will be performed by the UNDP Rural and Regional Development Sector Leader, supported by the UNDP Sector Associate.

The Project will be implemented by the Project Team, including the Project Manager, Project Assistant (Admin/Fin), 2 Project Officers, Liaison Officer, Communications Officer, and administrative support.

The Project Manager will run the project on a day-to-day basis on behalf of the UNDP and will be responsible for ensuring that the project produces the required results that can achieve the benefits defined in this document. A Project Officer 1 will ensure conceptualisation, delivery and monitoring of project activities in the fields of education, learning, knowledge management, awareness raising on the importance of healthy lifestyle and awareness raising on environment protection (outcome 1 related activities). A Liaison Officer will ensure timely coordination and synergies between all projects financed by the AICS and the Embassy of Italy in Bosnia and Herzegovina and will report to the donor. A Project Officer 2 will ensure conceptualisation, delivery and monitoring of project activities in the fields of dialogue, reconciliation, social inclusion, organization of outdoor youth campaigns, awareness raising on the significance of cultural, historical and natural heritage of Bosnia and Herzegovina, capacity development activities (outcome 2 related). One of the Project Officers will be responsible for regular coordination and interaction with the Embassy of Italy in Bosnia and Herzegovina. A Communications Officer will provide technical assistance and support to the Project Manager in design and implementation of the communication strategies and plans, and management of public relations activities for the Project. An Admin/Finance Assistant will provide full-time administrative, logistics, financial, procurement, recruitment and data management support.

It is foreseen that the Project will deploy both national and/or international expertise in various fields as the need arises. In addition, external goods and service providers will be engaged following a competitive process to deliver technical assistance, training or other types of specific goods and/or services (such as legal analysis, educational programmes planning and management, etc.).

⁹ To optimize level of engagement of key institutional stakeholders and achieve better policy-level coordination, it is proposed that the existing Project Board for the Via Dinarica Project is extended to include a responsible public body for young people.

Project Board structure and Project team

4.3 Project monitoring, evaluation and reporting

The Project will be monitored and evaluated in line with UNDP corporate standards and the specific requirements of the ACIS. Project monitoring will be characterised by a gender-sensitive approach and it will incorporate the monitoring of potential adverse environmental impact, particularly for the activities implemented in the environmentally sensitive areas. The main tools for organising the Project monitoring system are: (1) the gender-sensitive Logical Framework (Annex I); and (2) the Project risk analysis.

Evaluations

The Project will undertake a final participatory review to assess the results and effects, as well as to define the forward-looking vision.

Reporting

UNDP will consolidate narrative reports, as well as detailed financial reports as per the requirements of the ACIS. Those reports will include:

- Annual Narrative Progress Reports submitted to the ACIS and the Project Board;
- Annual Financial Report submitted to the ACIS;
- Final Project Narrative Report submitted to the ACIS and the Project Board;
- Final Project Financial Report submitted to ACIS.

4.4 Project budget

The total Project budget amounts to EUR 794,903 where the financial contribution by the ACIS amounts to EUR 700,000. The Project budget is enclosed as Annex II.

4.5 Cost efficiency and effectiveness

The Project will deploy numerous measures in order to achieve cost effectiveness. In terms of procurement, outsourcing of services will be based on a transparent and competitive process, as well as on the value-for-money principle.

The Project will seek to utilize in-kind contribution from partners in the form of hosting venue, hospitality and transport costs for events and training. For further cost efficiency, the Project will make use of existing relevant training programmes, thus reduce cost for training programme design.

LEGAL CONTEXT AND RISK MANAGEMENT

5. LEGAL CONTEXT

This project document shall be the instrument referred to as such in Article 1 of the Standard Basic Assistance Agreement between the Government of Bosnia and Herzegovina and UNDP, signed on 07 December 1995. 6. All signatories to the Project Document shall cooperate in good faith with any exercise to evaluate any programme or project-related commitments or compliance with the UNDP Social and Environmental Standards. This includes providing access to project sites, relevant personnel, information, and documentation.

7. UNDP as the Implementing Partner will ensure that the following obligations are binding on each responsible party, subcontractor and sub-recipient:

a. Consistent with the Article III of the SBAA [or the Supplemental Provisions to the Project Document], the responsibility for the safety and security of each responsible party, subcontractor and sub-recipient and its personnel and property, and of UNDP's property in such responsible party's, subcontractor's and sub-recipient's custody, rests with such responsible party, subcontractor and sub-recipient. To this end, each responsible party, subcontractor and sub-recipient shall:

i. put in place an appropriate security plan and maintain the security plan, taking into account the security situation in the country where the project is being carried;

ii. assume all risks and liabilities related to such responsible party's, subcontractor's and sub-recipient's security, and the full implementation of the security plan.

b. UNDP reserves the right to verify whether such a plan is in place, and to suggest modifications to the plan when necessary. Failure to maintain and implement an appropriate security plan as required hereunder shall be deemed a breach of the responsible party's, subcontractor's and sub-recipient's obligations under this Project Document.

e. In the event that an investigation is required, UNDP will conduct investigations relating to any aspect of UNDP programmes and projects. Each responsible party, subcontractor and sub-recipient will provide its full cooperation, including making available personnel, relevant documentation, and granting access to its (and its consultants', subcontractors' and sub-recipients') premises, for such purposes at reasonable times and on reasonable conditions as may be required for the purpose of an investigation. Should there be a limitation in meeting this obligation, UNDP shall consult with it to find a solution.

f. Each responsible party, subcontractor and sub-recipient will promptly inform UNDP as the Implementing Partner in case of any incidence of inappropriate use of funds, or credible allegation of fraud or corruption with due confidentiality.

Where it becomes aware that a UNDP project or activity, in whole or in part, is the focus of investigation for alleged fraud/corruption, each responsible party, subcontractor and sub-recipient will inform the UNDP Resident Representative/Head of Office, who will promptly inform UNDP's Office of Audit and Investigations (OAI). It will provide regular updates to the head of UNDP in the country and OAI of the status of, and actions relating to, such investigation.

g. UNDP will be entitled to a refund from the responsible party, subcontractor or sub-recipient of any funds provided that have been used inappropriately, including through fraud or corruption, or otherwise paid other than in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Project Document. Such amount may be deducted by UNDP from any payment due to the responsible party, subcontractor or sub-recipient under this or any other agreement.

Where such funds have not been refunded to UNDP, the responsible party, subcontractor or sub-recipient agrees that donors to UNDP (including the Government) whose funding is the source, in whole or in part, of the funds for the activities under this Project Document, may seek recourse to such responsible party, subcontractor or sub-recipient for the recovery of any funds determined by UNDP to have been used inappropriately, including through fraud or corruption, or otherwise paid other than in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Project Document.

Note: The term "Project Document" as used in this clause shall be deemed to include any relevant subsidiary agreement further to the Project Document, including those with responsible parties, subcontractors and sub-recipients.

h. Each contract issued by the responsible party, subcontractor or sub-recipient in connection with this Project Document shall include a provision representing that no fees, gratuities, rebates, gifts, commissions or other payments, other than those shown in the proposal, have been given, received, or promised in connection with the selection process or in contract execution, and that the recipient of funds from it shall cooperate with any and all investigations and post-payment audits.

i. Should UNDP refer to the relevant national authorities for appropriate legal action any alleged wrongdoing relating to the project or programme, the Government will ensure that the relevant national authorities shall actively investigate the same and take appropriate legal action against all individuals found to have participated in the wrongdoing, recover and return any recovered funds to UNDP.

j. Each responsible party, subcontractor and sub-recipient shall ensure that all of its obligations set forth under this section entitled "Risk Management" are passed on to its subcontractors and sub-recipients and that all the clauses under this section entitled "Risk Management Standard Clauses" are adequately reflected, mutatis mutandis, in all its sub-contracts or sub-agreements entered into further to this Project Document.

ANNEX IV: RISK ASSESSMENT

General Risks	Probability	Type / Impact	Project response
2020 Local Elections may delay the Project implementation and affect ethnic tension at the local level	Medium	Political / Medium (Project implementation delayed and affects the activities)	The Project will apply adequate mitigation measures, such as signing Agreements with institutional partners, thus formalising their commitment and contribution to the Project, as well as familiarising the newly-elected officials and policy-makers with the Project purpose and motivating them to engage in its implementation and to commit further public financing programmed to support Via Dinarica development.
Media amplify negative rhetoric supporting divisions	Medium	Communications / Medium	The Project foresees to identify and engage with media that is focusing on young people and work more through them. The Project will also, in collaboration with the Dialogue for the Future Project, identify media that received training on media literacy and impartial media work.
Inter-cultural dialogue activities supported through the Project touch on potentially sensitive topics and disestablish the participation of targeted groups or limit the support by respective institutions and organisations.	High	Behavioural / Political / High	Throughout the Project, emphasize the support of inter-cultural dialogue from the viewpoint of learning, adventures, traveling, whilst maintaining a clear ethnic- or political-neutral stance with regards to the content. The Project will engage with already experienced national organisations (youth, culture, sports, innovation, etc.) that have established country-wide networks and will utilise their positive image and entry points to young people or schools. UNDP will utilise the convening power of the UN family and will collaborate with respective UN agencies to ensure engagement and support by institutions from different government levels, as well as of schools and students from different localities in joint activities.
Force Majeure (e.g. severe weather conditions) impacts Project activities	Medium	Environment / Medium (Delays in the Project's implementation)	The Project will sequence the activities in such a manner that the bulk of infrastructure/construction works are delivered during the peak construction season to mitigate the impact of this risk to the project implementation.
